Giant Egg Spoon Game Rental

Includes: Set of 6 giant eggs, spoons and foam rings.

Classic Egg & Spoon Relay Race

Divide your group into teams of up to 6 and assign each team a colored egg and spoon. Use colored cones to designate a starting point and midpoint that each player on each team must carry the egg around and back to the starting line. The egg should be placed on the spoon with the narrower end of the egg down and in contact with the foam ring on the spoon for maximum stability. If a player drops the egg while transporting, they must stop moving, retrieve the egg, put it back on the spoon and then they may start walking again. The first team to have each person complete the circuit wins the race! If there is an unbalanced number of players on the teams, then teams with fewer players may have to have one or more players complete the circuit more than once.

Variation: Have the players transporting the eggs wear blindfolds. In this case, all the team members would walk with the player transporting the egg and shout out directions and encouragement. If the player drops the egg, they must keep their blindfold on while their teammates retrieve the egg and place it on the spoon for them. This variation has the added benefit of having the whole team moving and actively involved throughout the race.

Egghead Relay Race

Using the same basic setup as above, players and teams must race around the cones. Instead of balancing the “ostrich” or “dinosaur” eggs on the spoons, players must now race to save the eggs. Players can only transport the egg by balancing it on its “nest” (the black foam rings) and on their head! In this case, the wider end of the egg should be placed downward for maximum stability. For younger players, it is recommended that they be allowed to hold the foam ring on their head to increase their chances of success. With some players heads, the egg may not sit completely in the foam. Additional alternatives would be to allow players to hold the foam ring above their head or out in front of their chest.

Scooter Egg Relay Races

Set up a basic relay course as described above. Here, players sit on scooters and must push the ostrich egg along the course. Only the players’ scooter and feet may contact the egg. Both the egg and the player on the scooter must cross the start/ finish line before the next player can start along the course.

Pass the Egg Please!

Like musical chairs, pass the egg until the music stops or a stop command is given. Whoever is holding the egg is out of the game. Variation: If the egg drops during a pass, that player is also out of the game.

Fox in the Coop

A fun game that requires teamwork! Choose 6 players to be part of the “flock” and 2 players to be a “fox”, the rest of your group will be “guards”. Give each flock member an egg and spoon along with a blindfold. Also, give a blindfold to only ONE fox. Have the flock take a position together within the “coop” (designated area) blindfolded and holding their egg and spoon. The blindfolded fox should start as far from the flock as possible. The second fox is outside of the “coop” calling out the directions to the fox. Meanwhile, the guards are calling out to the flock the foxes movements to help them avoid having their egg stolen. Play is over after a predetermined amount of time or when the first egg is captured. Play can continue with new fox and flock selections.
